WHAT DID THEY SAY? Communication in the Office and With the Patient

2CE
OFFERED

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

So often we think we understand the message from the back to the front and vice versa. Having everyone on the “same page” is key for less mistakes, better cohesiveness, and improved case acceptance. It is more than “talk”, it the verbiage, the body language and how others read into our message.

By the end of this presentation, the dental professional will be able to:

- Understand communication and different communications skills.
- Recognize the value of relationships and the impact it has in the office and on making dental decisions.
- Evaluate information needed for effective co-diagnosing during the patient appointment.

Renee C. Graham
RDH, MEd

SPEAKER:

Renee received her dental hygiene degree from Albany University. She holds both a Bachelor of Science in Education and a Master of Education degree from Valdosta State University. The combination of clinical dental hygiene, academics, and corporate sphere allows her to bring many insights to the dental professional. Renee's speaking engagements encompass international, national, regional, and local events.

She has been married to "Bear" for 45 years and they have 2 children and 6 almost perfect grandchildren. She enjoys hiking, reading and golf. Her golf game is horrible, but she has the best hunt and find skills for locating hook and slice shots.

Registration is required.
